Narco-Cure

It Cures While You Continue the Use of Tobacco.

The greatest discovery of the age! A certain, pleasant, permanent cure. A lifetime's suffering ended for good.

Why smoke and eat your life away? Why suffer from dyspepsia, heartburn, and drain on your vital forces?

Stop using tobacco, but stop the right way! Drive the Nicotine from your system by the use of this wonderful remedy.

Narco-Cure is warranted to remove all desire for tobacco in every form, including Cigar, Cigarette and Pipe Smoking, Chewing and Snuff Taking.

Use all the tobacco you want while under treatment, and in from four to ten days your "hanker" and "craving" will disappear—the weed won't taste good.

The throw away tobacco forever. Narco-Cure is entirely vegetable and free from injurious ingredients. It never fails to give tone and new vigor to the weakest constitution.

Remember Narco-Cure doesn't deprive you of tobacco while effecting a cure; doesn't ask you to buy several bottles to be entitled to a guarantee; doesn't require a month's treatment; and, finally, doesn't enable you to stop tobacco only to find yourself a slave to the habit of snuff chewing.

With Narco-Cure, when you are through with tobacco, you are through with the remedy. One bottle cures.

FRUIT FLOWERS

BUDDING PEACHES.

Illustrated Direction for the Budding of Peach Seedlings.

In summer budding of young seedlings, the peach is perhaps the most easily grafted species of any of the fruits. The accompanying illustrations form a bulletin of the Michigan experiment station will make the operation plain to readers unacquainted with it.

You will want a budding knife, as shown at A, and some binding material, preferably raffia or basswood bark, or

BUDDING PEACH SEEDLINGS.

Yarn or strips of cloth. Next you want the buds. These should be taken from a tree which you are sure to be of the right variety, and they must be plump, healthy and well ripened. Cut the bud sticks and at once cut off the leaves, leaving stubs about three-eighths of an inch long. These stubs are to be used as handles in inserting the buds. If the sticks or scions are not used right away, they should be wrapped in oilcloth or in moist moss to keep them from drying.

A bud stick and buds detached are shown at B.

When ready for work, rub the leaves off the lower five or six inches of the seedling. Now make a T shaped cut into the bark about three or four inches above the ground. Some buds will be made to make the vertical cut first, then the cross cut (see A) with the back of knife slightly raised and at same time lifting the corners of the bark by means of a slight warring motion or twist of the wrist. If the bark does not lift, however, the ivory at the end of the handle can be used to open a place for the insertion of the bud.

About Gravel Walks.

Walks and drives should hardly ever be made on a small place except for purposes of strict utility. These are of course to be made on a gravel surface, and they would injure it or be inconvenient to vehicles or pedestrians. Even in the name of utility lines of travel are often laid down which are quite superfluous. In most cases the roads and paths detract from more than they help the picturesqueness of a garden, and they ought to be treated rather as necessary evils than things to be desired for their own sake.

A stretch of turf is more aesthetic than an equal area of macadam, and a lawn unbroken save by its own undulations is better than the same divided into a patch in a garden of gravel, however graceful may be its curves, says Gardening.

The Apple Orchard.

Spraying with the copper solution will not alone give an apple crop every year, says an American Agriculturist. Apples ordinarily are a full crop on alternate years, because when they do bear the crop is heavy and so exhaustive that the tree takes the following season to recuperate. If the fruit was thinned—leaving only a moderate crop to be matured—and the tree given proper fertilization, a crop could be grown every year. The crying need of the great majority of our orchards today, especially those that have been in bearing for a number of years, is potash in some form. There is nothing better than hard wood ashes where these can be obtained at fair prices.

Remedy For Curculio.

Planting plum trees in the hen yards is a good way to head off the curculio, says Rural New Yorker. Applications of insecticides to the trees are practically useless. Jarring the trees in the morning will dislodge many of the pests, and they may be caught on sheets spread under the trees and destroyed. Some use an apparatus like an inverted umbrella which claps around the tree, and into which the dislodged curculios drop.

What Is a Seed Pan?

What is a seed pan? Is a question some may ask. Gardening answers: It is a wide—four to 12 inches, generally—shallow, earthenware dish like a flower pot, and much used in growing seedlings in form. 2 to 3 inches deep, as a rule, and a little narrower at the bottom than at the top, and to admit of ready drainage the bottom is freely perforated.

Why Not You?

When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to overcome the weakness and languor which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? When you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to cure rheumatism, dyspepsia, and all the ailments which impair blood, why do you continue to suffer? Hood's cures others; why not you?

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient. 25 cents.

ONE CAT WORTH $12,500.

Did You Ever See a Pure Tortoise Shell?—That Look Like Building.

It is estimated that there are 300,000 cats in England and 60 varieties. With the greater number of these varieties the average reader is probably quite unfamiliar.

Tortoise shell and white tortois are very common, says an English writer, but a pure tortoise shell tortois is so extremely scarce that many people declare that they exist only in the imagination.

Any one who happens to possess a female red tabby without white spots could obtain a price which would enable him in comfort for at least a couple of years without work. Female red tabbies are as rare as tortoise shell tortois.

The taste in Persian cats just now runs on the deep blue with orange colored eyes. Edward Lloyd, the tanger, had one for which he repeatedly refused $150. The bright blue or blue is a favorite variety of the Persian, the price sometimes going as high as $125.

White cats of really beautiful proportions readily fetch $300. The Margaris of Daffin is extremely popular, and is one of the most beautiful of the breed, and is being comfortably domiciled at the British embassy in Paris.

Russian cats fetch high prices. The Duchess of Bedford owns several of a species, extremely rare—a very curious tint of blue. Russian cats are also highly prized, but the white variety is seldom long lived.

Mr. Sam Woodvick is the owner of a smooth haired tom, Xonophon, of such gigantic proportions that when the writer, after an introduction, induced the cat to approach by calling in someone else, he experienced a feeling of skin to skin as the mammoth jumped on his knee, which in the course of a few moments began to exhibit unmistakable signs of fatigue, and no wonder—for 25 pounds is a fair weight. Xonophon is valued by its owner at $12,500.

Some cats are actually vegetarians, and a curious variety from Burma will only drink water.

FEARLESS OF DANGER.

How One of the Du Ponts Died in a Powder Mill.

Thus far no Du Pont of the famous gunpowder making family of Delaware has ever been false to the family law of bravery, while more than one has given his life in obeying it. One Alexis D. Du Pont, son of the late General D. Du Pont, was killed by a powder mill explosion on the 15th of June, 1896, at the Du Pont gunpowder works at Indian Mills, Delaware.

The value of cats is much enhanced if they possess the black markings on the chest known as the "Grand Maitre." The writer has seen a cat of this sort for which the owner would not take $2,500.

FLOOD OF THE NILE.

THE GREATEST EVENT OF ALL THE YEAR AT CAIRO.

Impressive ceremonies at the Cutting of the Bank to Allow the Water to Flow into the Canal—The Ancient Nilometer on the Island of Roda.

The tourist who only comes to Egypt to see the "winter" and "hot" weather, knows nothing of the majestic glories of the Nile flood. The ancient Nilometer at the south end of the island of Roda, just above Cairo, is one of the most interesting sights of the place. The water on the Nile rises to a height of about 18 feet above the level of the sea, with a gradual stone pillar in the center. On each side of the well is a recess about 6 feet wide and 3 feet deep, surmounted by a pointed arch, over which is carved in relief a Kufic inscription, and a similar inscription on the sides of the well, consisting of verses of the Koran.

A staircase goes down the well, from the steps of which the initiated may read the height of the water on the pillar, but they are few in number, and the hereditary sheikh of the Nilometer, whose duty it is to keep the record, is a person of some importance. The Nilometer dates from A. D. 861, and is found in the archives of Cairo may be found the daily record for 1,000 years.

I need hardly tell you that when our English engineers took the river in hand we established a number of gauges at various points on the Nile, and many other points on more scientific principles than the venerable Nilometer of the Roda island.

After the river has begun to rise its height is daily chanted through the Cairo streets until it reaches 16 feet above the level of the sea. At this point the Khedive, the old canal that flows through the heart of Cairo, is opened—up to this point it is dry, and full or empty it is little more than a sanitary abomination at present, but in former days it occupied an important place, and when the Nile water was high enough to flow down its bed it was looked on as the flood had fairly set in, and that the kind fruits of the earth might be duly expected.

The head of this canal is on the right bank of the river, just south of Cairo. The water enters a channel some 30 feet wide, with a high wall on its left and a sloping bank on its right or southern flank. The water then flows under the pointed arch of an old stone bridge. The bed of the canal is cleared so that it would flow in at a gauge of about 14½ feet, but on either bank is a sluice through which it can be turned off at about four feet higher.

There is no more interesting ceremony in Egypt than the annual cutting of the Khedive, as the opening ceremony is called. It takes place between Aug. 5 and 15. Days before preparations are made for the festival. Tents with innumerable lamps are placed along the wall on the one side. Frames for all manner of fireworks are erected on the sand bank on the other side. All the notables are there in full uniform or in canonicals.

The Khedive himself, as his representative, the Sultan of Egypt, the highest dignitary of the Mohammedan faith; the Sheikh el Bekri, the Sheikh el Sadat, all the learned scribes of the great university of the Azhar, the cabinet ministers and under secretaries, the scribe of the army and his staff, the judges and the functionaries.

The Egyptian troops are turned out, salutes are fired, and about 8 o'clock in the warm summer night the classes all assemble under the gayly lighted tents, the masses crowd round the frames for the fireworks, the street is lined with people, and the time waits for the figures, though it is not much that they can see from their broughams. Out in the river just opposite the canal's mouth is moored an old hulk of a certain seaworthy outline, which has been towed up from Bulak during the day and is now in position for the festival. From the hulk a public of Venice sent an envoy to witness the ceremony. This boat is full of lamps, and fireworks too. As the night deepens the excitement increases. The populace on the bridge and opposite bank are shouting, yelling and dancing with the fireworks.

WEDDED TO-DAY.

Marriage of Mr. J. W. Beall and Miss Cora Rydman.

A Very Pleasant Affair at the Home of Captain Doane.

In the presence of about thirty guests composed of their relatives and immediate friends, Mr. J. W. Beall and Miss Cora Louise Rydman were married at 11:30 o'clock to-day at the home of Captain C. F. Doane, in the Doane block, on South Main street. The bride was attired in a very becoming traveling costume and carried a bunch of bride's roses, while the groom wore the usual black. The Mendelsohn club, of which Mr. Beall is a prominent member, occupied a conspicuous place in the parlor—between them being a vacant chair, which was occupied by the groom-elect's maid. The bride party entered the parlor to the tune of Mendelsohn's beautiful wedding march, played by the Mendelsohn club. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Peter Riggs, formerly pastor of Grace M. E. church, but now stationed at St. Mary's, after which a delightful wedding dinner was partaken of.

The bride has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Doane for some time. She was until recently of Toledo, her parents having died there a number of years ago, her only near relative being a brother, Mr. Melvin J. Rydman, who is in business in Toledo. She is a very estimable young lady, and is very popular in the large circle of warm friends she has formed during her residence in Lima.

Mr. Beall is a member of the editorial staff of the Times-Democrat, and during his several years' connection, has been found a faithful and conscientious newspaper worker, and added another to his long list of scope when he led his bride to the altar to-day. He is in every way deserving of the excellent young lady he has won as a life partner, and the heartiest wishes for the TIMES-DEMOCRAT, with that of their numerous friends, go to them for a long and happy wedded life. The presents were numerous and costly.

Mr. and Mrs. Beall left on north-bound C. & M. D. passenger train No. 6 at 5:55 o'clock this afternoon for Toledo and a trip on the lakes, to be home next week when a reception will be tendered them at the home of Mr. Beall's parents, 923 St. John's avenue.

The Lima club is scheduled to play in Findlay this afternoon and tomorrow. The Findlay Republican this morning says:

A big crowd should turn out to the game with Lima to-day. All will remember the reception the Lima club gave the Findlay boys recently, defeating them three straight games. Lima is now one of the strongest clubs in the league and is boasting that it will capture both games of the present series with Findlay. The new schedule provides only two games in each series. Pastorius will try to shut the visitors out without a run.

STREET TALK.

Cashier Jones, of the Commercial bank, of Jackson, O., and cashier Stahlkamp, of the Delphos national bank, were in the city yesterday on business.

Mr. Walter M. Cooney, of the firm of Carroll & Cooney, arrived from Newark last evening with his bride, nee Margaret Fitzgibbon, and are stopping at the Lima House. They were married yesterday morning at St. Francis de Sales church.

The many friends of Paul Hines, catcher for the Lima club last year, will regret to learn that he is in a very bad shape. He has been receiving treatment at Mt. Clemens, Mich., for some time, but with no good results, and his left hand will have to be amputated.

The Central Union Telephone Co. will commence the reconstruction of their plant in the city within the next ten days. It is their intention to string No. 14 copper wire of high conductivity, and when the plant is completed it will compare favorably with any plant in the country. Their new office will be equipped with apparatus of the most approved kind so that Lima will be furnished service equal to the best in the State. Additional copper metallic toll lines will shortly be constructed, giving Lima ample facilities to reach the cities of the State and country by telephone.

Hon. W. B. Ritchie and Sheriff Aaron Fisher were here to-day, and at one o'clock this afternoon met seven of the councilmen at the mayor's office to discuss the water works question.

It was decided that a civil engineer be engaged to make a draft of the town, determine how much piping would be necessary and the number of plugs needed. To get the lay of the streets, and compile a draft making everything simple and plain as to cost and feasibility, will enable the company to more fully understand what they wish to have embodied in their franchise. It will probably be another week before this can be done and the result laid before the council.—Delphos Herald.

A dispatch from Wooster says: Invitations are out for a double wedding: June 26th—Prof. J. M. Greenleaf, of Lima, and Miss Katharine Hostetler and Mr. Noble M. Weltz, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Henrietta L. Hozel.

J. M. Arndt, late a member of the Kenton Carriage company, has branched out in a new line of business. Last Thursday he purchased the grocery and provision store of the late Mr. Duggan, at Lima, and will hereafter devote his attention to

GOOD SPORT.

Yesterday's Races Were Very Interesting.

List of Yesterday's Winners and the Entries for Tomorrow's Events.

The three races which opened the June meeting of the Lima Driving Club company, were all good, and were witnessed by a large crowd. The weather was perfect for the sport and the track in good shape. The home stretch was kept sprinkled, an innovation which was highly appreciated by the spectators. The track will be kept in that condition each day during the races.

It took five heats to decide the first race, the three-minute trot. Dr. Austin, one of the favorites, drew the pole and took the lead. He lost this position on the first quarter but quickly recovered and finished with a good lead, Emma second and Advance third.

It took four scores to get them away in the second heat. Austin left his feet at the first quarter again and Emma, Advance and Navarre passed him. Navarre forged to the front and finished winner with ease. In the third heat Geddes worked his way to the front and was an easy winner.

The fourth and fifth heats were also easily won by Geddes.

Mr. Warren S. Bellows and wife, of New Haven, Conn., see Miss Hubbard, of Toledo, were at the Hotel French to-day, and will leave to-morrow for their home in the East. They are prominent young society people, and their marriage in Toledo yesterday was of more than usual note.

The Toledo Blade of last evening contains the following account of the illness of A. J. Hubbard, well known here:

A. J. Hubbard, of the Standard Oil company, started on a trip through Michigan this morning, was taken suddenly ill at Hillsdale and was brought to his home this afternoon.

Dr. Goodwin is now in attendance, and it is hoped that Mr. Hubbard will soon recover his usual good health.

Herman Eckhardt assumed his duties as C. H. & D. night ticket agent to-day. Fred Thomas, collector at the First National bank, is advanced to his position as bookkeeper and A. M. Wonnell, son of Ed. Wonnell, of South Warsaw, will take Fred's place as collector.

Cashier J. D. Case, cashier at the First National bank, of Franklinville, Pa., was in the city yesterday, the guest of Messrs. Boden & Aiken, the oil producers.

TELEPHONE WAR

About to be Inaugurated by the Bell People.

They Are Preparing for an Onslaught on Opposition Companies.

An onslaught on opposition telephone companies is to be made by the Bell Telephone company through the courts, unless its competitors are mistaken in its intentions. A combined front will be presented and resistance will be made jointly by practically all of the outsiders, it is said, backed by a fighting fund and led by competent lawyers. The Bell company movement is inspired by the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in its favor in the Berliner transmitter patent case. Proceeding on the claim that the patent is broad enough to cover all forms of battery transmitters, it will attack competitors and users of that kind of apparatuses. The Telephone Protective Association, organized three weeks ago, was formed for legal defense, with J. E. Keely, of the Western Telephone Construction company, as president.

Competition to the Bell in the last two years has grown vigorous in various sections. In Ohio and Indiana, in New York and elsewhere there are numerous places provided with exchanges, the entrance of the Bell to the field led to sharp reductions in toll rates.

The amount of money actually invested in outside telephone companies reaches millions. The Standard Telephone company, of Chicago, the latest competing enterprise, is one of the outsiders joined in the arrangement to fight the Bell in the expected forthcoming Court proceedings.

Dispatches state the Ohio Association of Independent Telephone Companies will call a meeting of the outside companies next month, and invite manufacturers to make an exhibit of their appliances on the occasion.

In the local field the Bell people are saying and doing. The fight of some kind is anticipated when the new company commences operations.

Oil Goes Up.

Raise of Two Cents in the Lima Production.

This morning North Lima oil was advanced from 75 to 77 cents and South Lima from 73 to 75; Indiana oil to 66 cents.

Pennsylvania oil was advanced to $1.55.

A dispatch from Wapakoneta says the latest oil well in Auglaize county was struck on the Peaman farm, near Wapakoneta. The sand was penetrated but sixteen feet when the well began flowing with such volume as to compel the drillers to abandon work. Oil men predict a flow of 1,000 barrels daily.

RUMORED RELEASE

of Passenger Conductors on the C. & E. Road.

There is a rumor about the C. & E. that conductors Ayers and Creamer have been retired from the service. The rumor is pretty well founded, and is regretted by all those connected with the road here. Both conductors were well liked by the railroad men, and were even courteous. Mr. Ayers has been on passenger and express for thirteen years, and it is to be hoped that he as well as Mr. Creamer will be placed back at work if it be true that they have been retired. It is also rumored that the official ax is to fall among other of the conductors and that heads will be severed pretty generally in time to come. How true this is is not known, but the descent of the ax is looked for.—Marion Star.

Circus Privileges.

Sealed proposals for cigar, peanut, lemonade, candy, etc., privileges for Elks' circus, July 4th, 1895, will be received by the committee up to 5 o'clock p. m., Saturday, June 22nd, 1895. Will sell all privileges outside our tents and within the limits of grounds to the highest bidder. No liquor privileges will be sold. One half of bid must be paid when bid is accepted and balance at the close of the afternoon performance. We reserve the right to reject any or all bids. Address bids to J. W. MOWEN, 931 Sec'y Executive Committee.

More Rain.

This is to let you know that the Great Innes Band Concert will be given in the opera house if we get more rain.

PRISONERS SENTENCED.

Korn and Guinan Go to the Works. Others Sent Up.

Judge Ritchie this morning sentenced the prisoners found guilty at the present term of court, as follows: Thos. J. Korn and John Guinan, for forging a railroad pass, each three months in the work house, and costs; George Knight, petit larceny, was sentenced to thirty days some time ago, but since then it has been found he has stolen from the other prisoners and he was sentenced to six months instead.

B. Pruden and James A. Wilson, for larceny, were sentenced to thirty days each and fined $200 and $50 respectively, but the sentence was suspended as they gave bond.

Boston Working Girls' Club. Nearly 1,600 working girls in and around Boston are banded together in club life, and once a year they have a reunion. On last May day evening many of them gathered in Parker Memorial Miss O. M. E. Rowe presided in the absence of the president, Miss Edith Howes.

Most satisfactory reports were presented of the year's work, and stirring words were spoken by Dr. George A. Gordon, who called the working girl, as Emerson did Carlyle, "a trip hammer with an Eolian attachment." His address was eloquent and encouraging. The girls sang, friends furnished instrumental music, and there were coffee and cakes in the parlors.

In 1870 the population of native extraction—that is, Americans—the children of Americans—was 26,000,000 and of foreign extraction 21,000,000.

The Proceeding Part.

Fuddy—How did you like Hammonson in "Julius Caesar" last night? Duddy—Well, I can't say that he was altogether satisfactory in the earlier scenes, but it was a real pleasure to see him die.—Boston Transcript.

The Bicycle Demand.

It is doubtful if such a condition of affairs as exists at present in the bicycle business has ever before been witnessed by our naturally wide awake dealers. Scarcely a leading manufacturer of wheels has found his sales—through agents greater in number than he ever supposed it was within his ability to gather—so far surpass his most sanguine expectations that he is today unable to supply to any appreciable extent the constant, steady and increasing demand for high grade wheels apparent on every hand.—Hardware.
